

Reds Blame All Trouble in Laos on U.S.

TOKYO (AP)—The Communists fired off new charges today that the United States is attempting to convert Laos into a military base, threatening Red China and North Viet Nam.

Helping declared the situation in the Indochina kingdom, where royal troops have been clashing with Red rebels, "has worsened and become more grave."

While the war of words ground on, Laos' frontier with her Red neighbors apparently was quiet. Reports from Vientiane, the Laotian capital, said there had been no significant skirmishes in the mountainous jungles of northern Laos in a week or 10 days.

The U.S. State Department brushed off Red China's charge, saying the Americans are fighting a war in Laos. A spokesman said this is the same propaganda line the Communists have been peddling for weeks. There are 80 American military advisers in Laos, but the spokesman denied the United States has any bases or troops in the little Buddhist kingdom. U.S. military and security aid to Laos for the 1959 fiscal year totaled $22,900,000.

matter of FACT

The word "president," of Latin origin, came to the Western Hemisphere in colonial days. In the English colonial system, the president was the officer presiding over the provincial council. The same term was accepted for the presiding officer in the Continental Congress, from 1774 to 1781, and in the congress created by the Articles of Confederation, under which the United States was governed from 1781 to 1789.

Panama Claims Another Invasion

PANAMA (AP)—The Panamanian government today claimed that another invasion of Panama is being planned in Cuba to topple President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr.

Interior Minister Jose Domindor said some of those involved also had a hand in last April's abortive invasion of the Central American republic.

These gains in the major cities: Memphis 2 per cent, Louisville 6, Little Rock 5 and St. Louis 3. In seven smaller district cities combined sales were about the same as in the corresponding week of 1958.

In the past four weeks district sales were 3 per cent above the comparable period a year ago. For the year to date sales are running 3 per cent ahead of last year's pace.

KIEL, Germany (AP)—A small German coastal freighter and a Soviet destroyer collided in a fog near Kiel in the western Baltic today, but the crew of the German ship plugged the hole in their vessel.

The Soviet ship resumed a west-bound course in company with two other warships, and it was not known if she had been damaged.

Says Couples Should 'Tease and Tickle'

LONDON (AP)—The Rev. Hugh Herbert recommended today that married couples vow "to tease and to tickle—until death do us part."

"Marriage should be fun. Far too many marriages are wrecks on the rocks of monotony," said the rector of St. John's Anglican church in Surrey, in an article for his parish magazine.

Big Jump in Polio Cases Over the U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reported paralytic polio cases jumped by 33 per cent last week to 215, the highest weekly figure since September 1956.

The Public Health Service said the total included 15 in North Carolina that should have been reported previously.

Through last Saturday there had been 1,560 paralytic cases listed this year. That compared with 633 in the similar period of 1956 and 3,045 in 1955, the year Salk polio vaccine first became available.

Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said the rise last week was caused by a general increase in a number of states rather than occurrence of epidemics.

At least two more weeks of increasing reports are indicated. Not since 1940 has the weekly total shown a steady decrease until after the 33rd week of the year. In 10 years, the turn has come as late as the 37th or 38th week.

The 245 paralytic cases last week compared with 183 in the week ended Aug. 1 and 86 in the week ended Aug. 9, 1958.

The highest weekly total in 1958 was 221, in 1957 it was 105, and in 1956 it was 388.

Altogether, there were 432 polio cases listed last week. This was one case more than in the highest 1958 week and the largest weekly total since 1956.

There have been 2,482 polio cases this year through last week, compared with last year through Aug. 9.

The service said Canada reports its polio incidence is about double what it was in 1958. The increase has centered mostly in the provinces of Quebec and Newfoundland.

In New York, the national foundation said polio vaccine is in short supply in many areas of the country due to the sharp upturn in polio incidence.

The foundation launched steps to try to remedy the situation. "Part of this situation can be eased if communities which have an adequate supply will share with areas where vaccine is scarce," said Melvin A. Glasser, executive vice president of the foundation.

Grandmother Will Help 8 Children

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Eight children, given away by their mother because she could not support them, had the promise of help today from their grandmother.

Oveta Turman, the grandmother, said she would wash clothes for her daughter, Opal Quisenberry.

"I'd rather go to my grave than see them separated," Mrs. Turman said.

Mrs. Quisenberry, 28, is in jail on suspicion of abandonment. She told officers she gave the children away because her husband left her and she lacked funds for their care. The mother said she could not pay her rent or other bills, and placed the children with acquaintances and relatives.

Emily Thacker, a policewoman, said today she has located all of the children. A 10-year-old boy is in Ohio with a relative, one is with Mrs. Turman, three live with Mrs. Quisenberry's sister, and the others are with acquaintances.

The grandmother, a widow, has a baby-sitting job for which she receives $20 weekly. She said she planned to give it up in order to rear her grandchildren.

Los Angeles Could Lose Convention

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A smoldering battle that could cost Los Angeles the 1960 Democratic National Convention neared a showdown today.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler warned that unless a convention ticket dispute is settled by Monday he will start looking for another site.

Kenneth Hahn, Los Angeles County supervisor with whom Butler talked by telephone Wednesday, said he expects a compromise will be worked out by Saturday.

But Hahn said, if that fails a new group is ready to finance the convention.

"I learned from a very high Democratic official that another group is ready to put up the $350,000 to underwrite the convention," Hahn said. "It is willing to accept the 1,500 tickets offered by Butler."

He would not identify the Democratic official for the group.

The ruckus started when oilman Edwin Pauley, co-chairman of the host committee, demanded 5,000 daily tickets to help pay off the $350,000 guarantee. He later agreed to a compromise of 3,113 tickets suggested by Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson.

Butler insisted that many tickets would not be available after necessary demands were met.

He said in Washington he would not budge from the 1,500 ticket allotment.

Junior Deputy's Tip Leads to Arrest

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Ellis Leroy Brister, 27-year-old Pitkin man, arrested on a tip from a 12-year-old Junior Deputy Sheriff today, faced two five-year prison terms for robbery.

Circuit Judge William J. Kirby sentenced Brister yesterday after he pleaded guilty. He was charged with robbing Ray Maddox, a cab driver, of his cab and $11 and with stealing a pistol from a local store on July 3. The sentences will run concurrently.

A state patrolman spotted the cab 30 minutes after it was stolen and began chasing it. He fired several shots at Brister before the man abandoned the cab.

Twelve hours later, the Junior Deputy Sheriff saw a man resembling Brister's description and notified an officer who arrested the man.

a low, dark shape in the star-silvered night.

He tried the door, found it unlocked and stepped through. Joe Peele was at work in Jim Kiene's feed and livery stable. Haskell scratched a match and by its feeble glow found the lamp on the table and set this alight. He located Joe Peele's old sawed-off Greener shotgun, resting on a pair of wooden wall pegs at the head of the bunk.

He nocked half a dozen lethal buckshot loads, broke the gun and slipped two into the gaping twin chambers. He closed the gun, blew out the lamp and headed into the night again, not tracing his way. On the street once more he wheeled to face the door of the Canyon House.

Deliberately, first the left, then the right, he drew back the hammer of the Greener. Then, with the gun held hip-high and level, certain, too lethal too full of a driving kick sent it crashing open. He stepped through.

If before there had been sound in the Canyon House, there was none now, save the thin sibilant of startled, indrawn breaths. With their first look all but one were struck with a tense silence and a frozen immobility; all except the pockmarked one, he of the narrow jaw and broken teeth.

No man could guess, or would ever know, what desperate impulse drove this one to defy the bitter purpose in Grady Haskell's eyes and the massive threat of the Greener. Yet something set the fellow off. With muttered imprecation he crouched and went for his gun.

Haskell swung the Greener and fired from the hip. The room bulged with the hoarse roar of the big Greener, and the charge of buckshot, at this short range, literally picked him back and dropped him broken and twisted and instantly dead. Then the rocking Greener was menacing the room again, backed by Haskell's harsh words.

"That's how it will be again if anybody wants the other barrel!"

Had it been a revolver that Haskell held, or a rifle, they might have gambled and made a try for him. But not against that sawed-off terror. The Greener, at this short range, was too certain, too lethal too full of a driving kick sent it crashing open. He stepped through.

"Over against that wall!" Haskell gave the shotgun a little wave of direction. "Free it and put your hands against it—as high as you can reach. You too," he told Art Oren.

Both heels clumped, spurs scuffed, as they obeyed in a tense, careful shuffle. Oren, his heavy face placid and pallid almost fell down in his clumsy eagerness to obey. From down the length of the room Haskell met the eyes of Sandy, the grizzled Hayfork rider, and the old fellow spoke quietly.

"Not arguing, understand. Just wanting you to know I don't belong with this crowd. I was figuring how to get clear of them without trouble, when you came in."

Haskell considered him for a blank moment, then nodded curtly.

"You can prove that by collecting your guns for me. But—watch yourself! I've had a bellyful of fancy treatment in these hills, and I've little trust left for anybody around here."

Sandy obeyed with alacrity, stepping in behind the Beaverhead crowd, emptying holsters and piling the guns on the bar.

"Now outside," Haskell ordered. "Get their rifles."

Sandy made three trips back and forth, before he had all of these. Rutt Dubison looked across his shoulder at the old rider.

"See, after this you can figure your time in these hills as run out. One of us will catch you along some trail, and that will be it."

Haskell moved closer in. "Turn

The family pews were marked with bows of yellow satin ribbons.

Mrs. Ingram, mother of the groom, dressed in blue silk print with white corsage and matching accessories, was ushered to her seat by Mr. Larry Stanley. The younger set sets out for school this fall with a "best-dressed" look. Even small fashions have a look of luxury this year. Jumper-dress (left), in silky textured cotton buttons down one side, is detailed with a tier of tiny pockets on the other. The separate white blouse is attached to a nylon tulle underskirt. Another silky cotton (center) has collar and bodice decorated with stream of plaid scallops. Full shirred skirt flares over attached nylon tulle underskirt. Navy blue sailor dress (right) in cotton broadcloth has skirt of double kick pleats which open to show embroidered braid insert. White sailor collar is also outlined in the braid. All three dresses shown here are by Celeste.

When autumn comes, the American girl is quick to look for additions to her sweater wardrobe. Here are two in the best American tradition. Formality Is Best Suited For Life In Big City

By DOROTHY DIX

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband and I recently came to a small town to establish a branch of his business. Things are quite different here than they were in our home city and there have been extreme disputes in our home over some of them. For instance, my husband's business friends drop in unexpectedly, finding me totally unprepared for guests. This makes me very upset. I feel they should wait for an invitation from me. They invite us to their homes very casually, with a "Drop in some Saturday night." I refuse to go because, in most cases, I don't know their wives. Am I wrong in assuming that people shouldn't visit without specific, definite invitations? — Beulah

Because Hope Star's electronic engraving machine copies photographs on a one-to-one scale all pictures submitted for publication on the Society Page—such as engagements and wedding announcements—must conform to the following rules:

WIDTH — 4 1/4 inches following 1/4 inch for cropping, to make a 2-column plate 4 inches wide. Standard 8x10 prints can not be used. Your studio on request will furnish you a print 4 1/4 inches wide.

GLOSSY black-and-white prints are the best newspaper reproduction. Semi-matte and screen prints will be accepted, however. But colored or tinted prints are forbidden, as they make for inferior printing.

FREE PUBLICATION is given Society portraits, therefore The Star feels it is only just that the above rule on picture size be enforced.

ON PICTURES originating out-of-town where it is impossible to obtain a print of correct size The Star will by special arrangement undertake to re-photograph 8x10's to bring them down to 4 1/4 inch width — but there will be a $1 charge for this, and The Star reserves the right to cancel this arrangement without notice, if it interferes with production schedule on news pictures.

Chicago Keeps Lead With Win Over Cleveland

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Few realize just how great a pitcher Early Wynn really is. Here's a fellow going on 40 en route to a 20-game winning season. How many pitchers do you suppose have won 20 at Wynn's age? Christy Mathewson? Walter Johnson? Herb Pennock? Bob Feller? Kid Nichols? From Man Joe McGinnity? No!

Only two have done it and they rank among the three or four greatest pitchers even in baseball. Cy Young won 20 when he was 41 and Grover Alexander won 21 at 40.

Wynn won his 16th Thursday night in pitching the league-leading Chicago White Sox to a 9-0 victory over Detroit. He not only is the biggest winner in the league but he leads with five shutouts. The triumph was the 25th of his career, just 35 short of becoming the first pitcher since Lefty Grove to win 300 major league games.

The triumph enabled the White Sox to maintain their 2½ game lead over the Cleveland Indians who defeated Kansas City 7-5. Washington knocked off the New York Yankees again 5-2. Boston and Baltimore were idle.

Los Angeles climbed into second place in the National League with a 7-6 squeaker over St. Louis. Chicago's Cubs slaughtered the San Francisco Giants 20-9 and Cincinnati edged out Milwaukee 9-8. Pittsburgh and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

The White Sox, usually a band of cream-puff hitters, exploded for four home runs in support of Wynn's three-hit pitching. Jim Landis, Bubba Phillips, Earl Torgeson and Sherm Lollar were the homer hitters. Don Mossi took the brunt of the Sox's 14 hit attack.

Russ Kemmerer, who had lost six straight, hurled a six-hitter against the Yankees for his first victory since June 28. Harmon Killebrew paced the Senators' attack against loser Bob Turley with two run-scoring doubles and a single.

Musial Benched, Cards Lose; Bums Go to 2nd

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two on and two out, St. Louis batting in the bottom of the ninth, trailing 7-6.

A perfect spot for Stan Musial. But that was yesterday. Instead of Musial coming up to hit in that spot, the batter was rookie first baseman Gene Oliver, Stan's replacement. Musial? He was sitting on the bench.

The fact that Oliver struck out ending the game is not important. The tragedy of it is that Musial. The greatest hitter in the National League in our time, was deemed too much of a risk to send up in that crucial spot.

In fairness to Solly Hemus, the aggressive Cardinal manager probably was fearful of shattering kid Oliver's confidence. After all, it was Oliver who ignited the Cards' last-ditch five-run rally with a homer in the ninth. Pinch hitter George Crowe followed a few moments later with a grand-slam homer.

Just before the game, General Manager Bing Devine announced that the 38-year-old Musial would be benched for much of the rest of the season in favor of the much younger Oliver.

The Dodger victory lifted them into second place 2½ games behind the San Francisco Giants, who dropped a 20-9 slugfest to the Chicago Cubs, and half a game in front of the Milwaukee Braves, who were beaten 9-8 by Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Chicago's White Sox maintained their 2½-game lead over Cleveland in the American League, shutting out Detroit 9-0 while the Indians were defeating Kansas City 5-2.

Los Angeles southpaw Sandy Koufax took a 7-1 lead into the ninth. But it took two more pitchers to stop the Cards.

The loser was Bob Miller. Brooks Lawrence, third Cincinnati pitcher in the ninth, forced Eddie Mathews to foul out with the bases full to preserve the Reds' victory. The Braves, trailing 8-6 after four innings, battled back and were trailing 9-5 as they came to bat in the ninth.

Frank Robinson hit a grand-slam homer and batted in a fifth run with a sacrifice fly to lead the Reds' attack against loser Bob Miller and four relievers.

The Cubs posted seven Giant pitchers for 19 hits, good for 40 total bases to set a season scoring high in a game that lasted 3 hours and 50 minutes. Longest nine-inning game in league history. Rookie George Altman paced the Cubs with two homers, three singles and five runs batted in.

West Cagers Capture All Star Contest

By WICK TEMPLE

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A hot West team in cool Barton Coliseum sent the East to its third basketball defeat in four years last night, 88-74, in the Arkansas high school all-star game.

The West hit a sizzling 63 per cent of its field goal attempts and held the upper hand almost constantly after halftime.

The individual stars were Gaylon Ward of Leachville and James King of Fort Smith. Each scored 20 points to tie the all-star scoring record set last year by Clyde Traylor of Marianna.

The first half was almost even under a new all-star substitution rule that allowed three platoons to divide playing time. The West third unit grabbed a 4-point lead in the period.

Then Ward and King took over. Ward scored 10 points in the first half and gained a 54-52 lead for the East.

But the West tied it and went ahead to stay at 57-56 on a field goal by Fort Smith's Tommie Boyer. The second half was played in quarters and the West led for the whole fourth period.

Ken Saylor of Pyatt scored 13 points for the West before fouling out. And Dickie James of Van Buren notched six before incurring his fifth personal. Saylor and James played the posts and rebounding.

Wayne Davenport of North Little Rock scored 13 for the East and Jim Wilson of Cherry Valley got eight.

Boyer, the all-arounding who led his team to Big Nine state tournament titles, scored only 11 points but played outside most of the night. The East defense leaned toward him but East coach W. T. Watson did not order double teaming of the 6-6 star.

The new substitution rule worked well. It got every player into the game in the first half and all but four scored. Coaches substituted at will in the second half. Pine Bluff's toulled Bobby Anderson scored only two points before fouling out early in the second half.

Coach Connie Maloch of the West changed his lineup at the last minute and started Rogers of Green Forest in place of Saylor and James. Saylor was placed on the second unit and James on the third in an attempt to strengthen those two platoons. The East played it straight and

Bookmaker Cleared by His Friends

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Joseph Anton Kaelael has been cleared of bookmaking charges because he only took bets from friends.

Several witnesses told U. S. Judge David W. Ling they made bets with Kaelael on just a friendly basis, not as professional bookmaker and customer.

Kaelael was charged with violating the federal law tax for bookmakers. Patrick Coleman, assistant U. S. Atty., said Kaelael handled $50,000 a month in bets.

Falls Off of Ship, Accidentally Rescued

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Seaman Garguilo Francisco accidentally fell off his ship in the Atlantic Ocean Tuesday. Little over an hour later he was sort of accidently rescued.

The Navy submarine rescue ship Kittiwake, scurrying to port to spot Francisco bobbing in the water 43 miles off Cape Henry and took him aboard.

fell behind four points while the third unit battled. The West led at halftime, 42-38, by virtue of two free throws by King followed by a field goal by Clennon Dailey of Emerson.

Bob Whitener of Texarkana directed the West floor attack, playing almost all of the second half of its field goal attempts.

An estimated record crowd of 3,500 watched the game in newly erected bleachers at the annual coaching clinic.

The all-star festivities wind up Saturday night with the football game at War Memorial Stadium.
